MARIE BENEDICT

VIRTUAL AUTHOR VISIT

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21 AT 7PM ON ZOOM

As a young woman, Marie Benedict was gifted a book by a treasured aunt – who also happened to be an English professor – that opened her eyes to the hidden world of women's stories and voices that lurked in the shadows of the past. The epiphany she experienced while immersed in this particular book, The Mists of Avalon, is one she hopes to share with the readers of her own books, as she unearths important, but unknown, historical women from the detritus of the past and brings them into the light of modern day where their very contemporary contributions and issues can be explored.
